LECTURES
ON AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDIES

Professor Kym Pinder '87 will visit campus as a Twilight Scholar on January 13-15, 1998. After completing her doctorate in art history at Yale University and teaching for three years at Middlebury, Kym Pinder joined the faculty at The School of the Art Institute of Chicago, where she is an assistant professor in the department of Art History, Theory and Criticism. Kym lectures and publishes on representations of history and religion in American Art. On January 14, 1998 at noon at the Chellis House, Pinder will present a slide lecture discussing an exhibition she is curating, "Sexing Myths: Representing Sexuality in African-American Art" at the Betty Rymer Gallery in Chicago, Ill., January 23-March 5, 1998. The topic of this talk is one aspect of this exhibition which focuses on the effort of some contemporary African-American artists, such as Kara Walker, Emma Amos, and Lorna Simpson, to address the representation of women of color in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. For the Chaplain Emeritus Charles P. Scott Symposium, Pinder will present a lecture titled "Testifyin' Pictures: Religion and African-American Art" on January 15, 1998 at 4:15 p.m. at Twilight Hall auditorium. This presentation will examine religious imagery in African-American art from Henry O. Tanner and William H. Johnson to contemporary murals in black churches in Chicago, Kym's present home.

ON AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDIES

Trudier Harris is the J. Carlyle Sitterson Professor of English at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. One of the most prominent critics of African-American literature at work in America today, Harris has published numerous books, including Exorcising Blackness: Historical and Literary Lynching and Burning Rituals (1984) and The Power of the Porch: The Storyteller's Craft in Zora Neale Hurston, Gloria Naylor, and Randall Kenan (1996). Her talk for the Chaplain Emeritus Charles P. Scott Symposium, "Christianity's Last Stand: Visions of Spirituality in Post-1970 African American Literature," will discuss black women's alternative formulations of spirituality in the wake of dissatisfaction with the conventional trappings of Christianity. The lecture will take place on January 15, 1998 at 8 p.m.

CALL TO WORSHIP

With what shall I come before the Lord,
and bow myself before God on high?
Shall I come with burnt offerings,
with calves a year old?
God shows you what is good;
and what does the Lord require of you?
To do justice, to love kindness,
and to walk humbly with our God.

HYMN # 554 In Christ there is no East or West McKee

OPENING PRAYER

PRAYER OF ILLUMINATION (in unison)

Lord, open our hearts and minds
by the power of your Holy Spirit, that, as the Scriptures are read
and your Word proclaimed,
we may hear with joy what you say to us today. Amen

LESSONS FROM HEBREW SCRIPTURES

PSALM 40

Congregational Response:
He is King of kings, He is Lord of Lords;
Jesus Christ, the first and last - no man works like Him.
